Ephesians 2:8-10

Jerusalem was a heathen city before Israel came into the land to take possession of Canaan. (vv.1-5)

God claimed Jerusalem as His city and bride. (vv.6-8)

Jerusalem had nothing to offer God, yet God claimed her and made her something special. (vv.8-14)

Sadly, Jerusalem played the harlot. (vv.15-34)

God would punish her for her harlotry. (vv.35-59)

Despite all of her sin, God would welcome her back. (vv.60-63)

Ezekiel 16

Our sin causes us to be vile, wretched, pitiful, & unclean.

Our sin leaves us only deserving punishment & death.

Yet, God claims us for Jesus Christ as His bride
even though we are unworthy & offer nothing.

God's grace can turn the most undesirable into a beautiful bride fit for a King.
