Denied

Service Denied

Pride can be a major hinderance to our serving and being served by others.

Humility is needed so that we will see the needs of others and recognize that we, too, need help from time to time.

When we allow ourselves to serve and be served, we are creating opportunities for all involved to be blessed in tremendous ways.
